Genealogy and the Dublin History Group Collection

We have had some great talks recently, Richard Sullivan from Genealogy SA, who started with the basics of researching your Family Tree and then onto the resources Genealogy SA have, which are extensive.

Peter Applebee on the Australian Cemeteries website and how to use it to research your family. and there is a wealth of knowledge on it.

Have A Go Research Afternoon on the 23rd June, when you can come along to the Research Centre and with the assistance of members from The Adelaide Northern Districts Family History Group go through our collection or go on line to see what is out there, great fun, you never know what you might discover.

Gould Genealogy are coming in the evening of the 16th July to show us what wonderful resources Gould Genealogy have, great stuff

Below is a list of Family Names the DHG has folders on, the amount of information and photos vary but they could be an interesting read. We would also love to add to these or even add new names if you would like your local family history to our collection
