

Dublin History Group honors diggers

Dublin History Group's "100 Years of Anzac - We will Remember Them" exhibition was held on Sunday, May 24, when seven local soldiers were honoured in the new Remembrance Garden.

Newly dedicated plaques, honouring Dublin soldiers who were not recognised on local Honour Rolls, were temporarily placed around the newly planted Gallipoli Rosemary and Gallipoli Rose garden.

A cement border and plaque bases will be laid in the near future.

Those who attended enjoyed the day, with family members very appreciative of the garden and plaques in honour of their ancestors.

Front sitting: Jilda Ralph (Brooklyn Park), and Hazel Ralph (nee Thompson) Brooklyn Park. Rear standing L to R Allan Crowell (Price), Deborah Ralph (Brooklyn Park), Kym Ralph (Brooklyn Park) Geoffrey Ralph (Brooklyn Park), Merlene Ralph (Findon), Ken Thompson (Murray Bridge), front Audrey Thompson (Murray Bridge), rear Sam Del De Medico (Findon.)

RIGHT: Scattering Flanders Poppy seed into the newly planted Gallipoli Rosemary and Gallipoli Rose garden, Dublin Institute

Dublin History Group member Susan Adams places one of the plaques temporarily. Cement borders and plaque bases will be laid in the near future.

Ken and Audrey Thompson, who visited from Murray Bridge, hold the framed memorial certificate that was presented to Private Norval Thompson's parents by The District Council of Dublin, May 24 1919.

Kevin Hammond reads one of the newly dedicated plaques honouring the Dublin soldiers who were not recognised on local Honour rolls.

Australian Government
Bureau of Meteorology

WEATHER FORECAST

Supported by Balco Australia
the future of hay

Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
21	17	16	16	16
Mostly sunny	Rain at times	Party Cloudy	Party Cloudy	Possible Shower

WARNINGS

Information at www.bom.gov.au/weather or 1300 659 215 (Local call cost)

STATE

Wednesday: Areas of high cloud. The slight chance of showers, except for over the Murraylands and Mount Lofty Ranges districts and in the far north east of the State. Showers more likely west of about Woomera, and tending to areas of rain. Cool to mild in the south grading to warm in the north. Light to moderate northerly wind.

Thursday: A high chance of rain moving across the northern agricultural area, Flinders district and Pastoral districts, except in the far northeast. The Friday: A medium chance of rain north of about Woomera to Broken Hill, contracting northwards, and also clearing in the northeast during the day. The slight chance of showers over the agricultural area, more likely near southern coasts. Cool to mild grading to warm in the far northeast. Light to moderate southwest to southeasterly wind, tending northwest to southwesterly in the south.

Outlook: The medium chance of rain over the north of Pastoral districts clearing by Monday. The slight chance of showers over the agricultural area, mainly over the southern agricultural area. Cool to mild with mainly moderate northwest to southwest wind.

northwesterly 15 to 20 km/h during the evening. Friday: Partly cloudy. Slight (20%) chance of a shower. Light wind.

YORKE PENINSULA DISTRICT FORECAST

Wednesday: Partly cloudy. Slight (20%) chance of shower. Light wind becoming northwesterly 15 to 20 km/h in the morning then becoming light in the early afternoon.

Thursday: Cloudy. Medium (50%) chance of showers. Wind north to northwesterly 15 to 20 km/h turning west to southwesterly during the afternoon.

Friday: Partly cloudy. Slight (30%) chance of a shower, more likely in the south. Wind